Medical Benefits in Retirement

What happens once I meet the Rule of 75?
- You can retire – and be eligible for subsidized retiree medical
- You vest in retiree medical, but you can continue to work
- There is no loss of benefit entitlement once you meet the rule
- If eligible, you may consider FIAP or Phased Retirement option

Options Available upon Retirement
- Begin Retiree Benefits Immediately
- Defer – One time only at the time of retirement (current dependents only)
- Waive – cannot re-enroll
Penn’s Rule of 75

What is it and how does it work?

- The rule of 75 determines your eligibility for participating in one of Penn’s retiree medical plans.

- Minimum age 55 and a minimum of 10 years of full time continuous service (bridged service not eligible) and age and service add up to 75

- Whole age and whole years of service used to calculate

Examples:
Hired full-time in 2008@ age 45, In 2018 - 10 years + age 55. 55+10 = 65 - not eligible

Hired full-time in 2001@ age 48, retiring in 2018 - age 65 + 18 yrs of svc = 83 yrs - eligible
Medicare isn’t simple

- Every day, 10,000 Baby Boomers are turning 65 and becoming eligible for Medicare
- The rules about how to enroll in Medicare aren’t always known to retirees and people with disabilities
Reaching age 65 is an important milestone...you’re now eligible to enroll in Medicare!

(whether you decide to retire or continue working)
This brings up lots of questions…

- What is Medicare all about?
- Do I need to take it if I work and have health coverage now?
- How do I enroll?
- How much does it cost?
- What options are available through the University? How do they work with Medicare?
- Where do I start?
What Is Medicare?

- Federal health insurance program administered by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS)
- Eligibility and Enrollment handled by the Social Security Administration (SSA) or the Railroad Retirement Board (RRB)

Who is eligible?

Citizenship:
- United States citizen or
- Living in the U.S. legally for at least 5 years nonstop
  - And

Age:
- 65 years or older and eligible for Social Security
  - Or

Disability:
- People under 65 with certain disabilities
- All people with End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD)
If I continue to work, do I need to enroll?

Do I need to enroll in Part A and Part B?

- As long as you maintain medical coverage through an employer-sponsored large group health plan through Penn or your spouse’s employer plan*, you may not need to enroll in Part A and Part B.

- Once you are planning to retire and will not have coverage through your Penn or your spouse’s employer plan, contact Medicare at least 3 months before you plan to retire.

Can I delay enrollment into Medicare without getting a penalty for Part B or Part D?

- Yes, you may delay enrollment as long as you have coverage through an employer-sponsored large group health plan* through Penn or your spouse’s employer and you will not be subject to a penalty.

* A large group health plan is defined as a health plan for an employer group who has 20 or more employees for individuals who are not disabled.
I am on Disability and will be eligible for Medicare. Do I need to enroll?

Do I need to enroll in Part A and Part B?

- If you are covered as the primary subscriber on a Penn plan and you are no longer actively working, and eligible for Medicare, you must enroll in Medicare Parts A and B.

- If you not enrolled as the primary subscriber on a Penn plan, but you are covered as a dependent on your working-spouse’s employer large group health plan*, you do not have to enroll in Medicare Parts A and B.

Can I delay enrollment into Medicare without getting a penalty for Part B or Part D?

- Yes, you may delay enrollment as long as you have coverage through your working-spouse’s employer large group health plan* you will not be subject to a penalty.

* A large group health plan is defined as a health plan for an employer group who has 100 or more employees for individuals who are disabled.
I am enrolled in the Aetna High Deductible Health Plan with a Health Savings Account (HSA) - should I enroll in Part A and Part B?

Declining Medicare Part A and Part B

- As long as you are not receiving Social Security benefits, you can choose to decline Part A until you retire
- You can delay Part B enrollment until you lose your active coverage
- If you are married and not enrolled in Medicare, but your spouse is enrolled in Medicare, you can still contribute to the HSA
- You should not contribute to the HSA or receive Penn seed money within the same tax year as you retire.

Enrolling in Medicare Part A and Part B

- If you are enrolled in Medicare, you cannot open or contribute to an HSA, or collect Penn seed money.
- You will continue to have access to any contributions made prior to Medicare enrollment
How do I enroll in Medicare?
Do you have to apply for Medicare or do you get it automatically?

There are three enrollment periods for Medicare.

Enrollment is automatic if you are receiving:

- Social Security benefits
- Railroad Retirement Board benefits

Initial Enrollment Period (IEP):

- Sent 3 months before
  - 65th birthday or
  - 25th month of Social Security disability benefits

General Election Period (GEP)

Special Enrollment Period (SEP)
When can I enroll in Medicare Part A and Part B?

Initial Enrollment Period (IEP) is the first time you are eligible for Medicare

Turning 65:
- 7-month period surrounding the months of your 65th birthday
- 3-1-3 rule

Under 65 and disabled:
- 3 months before the 25th month of disability

Enrollment options:
- Join Medicare Part A and/or Part B and Part D
When can I enroll in Medicare Part A and Part B? (continued)

General Election Period (GEP) allows anyone who did not enroll in Medicare Parts A and/or B when first eligible and who are not eligible for a Special Enrollment Period

- Enroll during January 1 – March 31 of each year
- Part B coverage will start the month after the enrollee signs up
When can I enroll in Medicare Part A and Part B if I am still actively working?

Special Enrollment Period (SEP) may delay enrollment in Part B if covered by a large group health plan based on current employment that is primary – this is the Enrollment Period that applies the most to Penn Retirees.

Part B
- You are currently covered under active employee member/spousal coverage
  - Can enroll at any time
- You lose active employee member/spousal coverage
  - 8-month period (Parts A and/or B) beginning the month after employment ends or group coverage terminates, whichever is first

Enrollment Options
- Join Medicare Parts A and/or B, also enroll in Part D

Coordination of Benefits: Medicare and Penn Plans for 65+

When a Faculty member is still actively working and covered under a Penn plan:
- Medicare is secondary and Penn plan is primary

When a Faculty member is on Long-Term Disability and covered under a Penn plan:
- Medicare is primary and Penn plan is secondary.*

When a Faculty member is retired and covered under a Penn Retiree plan:
- Medicare is primary and Penn plan is secondary.*

* Exception to this rule is when the participant is enrolled in the Aetna Advantage PPO - all claims are filed directly to Aetna for plan participants. Enrollment in Medicare Parts A and B is still required.
Coordination of Benefits: Medicare and End-Stage Renal Disease

- Medicare is secondary and the Penn plan is primary
  - During 30-month coordination period
  - Period begins the first month you are eligible for Medicare due to ESRD
    - Even if you have not signed up
- Medicare is primary and the Penn plan is secondary
  - After the 30-month coordination period
Coordination of Benefits: COBRA and Medicare

- Medicare is always primary to COBRA coverage
  - COBRA may act like a Medigap policy

- You should enroll in Part B if eligible
  - A Special Enrollment Period DOES NOT apply for loss of COBRA coverage

- You will have to pay a Part B late enrollment penalty if you decide to delay enrolling in Medicare because you had COBRA
Medicare costs

Monthly Medicare Part B Premium 2024

- Standard premium: $174.70 (or higher depending on your income)
  - IRMAA – Income-related Monthly Adjustment Amount
  - MAGI – Modified Adjusted Gross Income
- Taken out of your monthly Social Security payment

Medicare Deductibles 2024 (Original Medicare)

- Part A Deductible - $1,632
- Part B Deductible - $240

- If you enroll in a Penn Retiree plan, you will not be responsible for the Medicare deductibles.

If you believe you should not pay IRMAA, your circumstances have changed, or your IRMAA was miscalculated, you have the right to request that SSA lower or eliminate your premium increase. You will have to submit evidence whether you are appealing SSA’s original determination or requesting a new determination.
